

Originally from Portland, Oregon Tami Brooks has been living in Brooklyn, NY since 1992. She began her love affair with jewelry making on a trip to London drooling over a chunky, wonderful ring that she felt personally “spiritually connected” to, of which her bank account wasn’t so connected too. She then decided to learn how to create her own jewelry.

She draws her inspiration for Tam Aura Designs from the basic architecture of simple things and seeks to constantly create distinctive designs for men and women that spark interest and conversation through the use of unique materials such as cork, wood, silver and concrete.

Her jewelry has been featured in the Boston Globe, Bust Magazine, Coolhunting.com, MightlyGoods.com and In-Style magazine. Check out the complete line by Tam Aura Designs at www.tamaura.com

1. tam noun.; a phenomenal woman
2. au’ra noun.; an invisible breath, emanation, or radiation.

tam aura seeks to continually create inspired jewelry pieces that hold their own aura; that distinct but intangible quality that seems to surround a person or thing; an invisible breath, emanation, or radiation of unique and brilliant energy.